Report

1. I replicated the logic of prompt writing using roles for best performing stocks
2. GPT refused to answer about 2024, stating that it cannot predict the future
3. It gave a good answer for 2021
4. I tried the same in a different context: history, but the answer was not provided in the desired format
5. The resulting answer was not precise and contained excessive information, I was able to resolve it through clearer instructions
6. I tried the same in one more context: strategic decision-making problem
7. The provided answer is not correct
8. I provided a more detailed prompt and received a better answer, which was not completely correct though
